FIRST EMPLOYEE

John Higgins, Senior Vice President and General Counsel, joined the Devil Rays organization as its first employee on April 1, 1995.

VINCE NAIMOLI

MANAGING GENERAL PARTNER AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Whether he is greeting fans at the gates at Tropicana Field, loading supplies onto the Devil Rays Express truck bound for storm-ravaged parts of Florida, soliciting ideas from Rays backers at the club's annual Fan Fest, sitting in his seats behind first base at a game, joining in on a stop at the Rays off-season caravan, or greeting fans while riding on the Devil Rays float in the Outback Bowl Parade, Vince Naimoli's passion for the Devil Rays and the game of baseball is real. Very real.

Naimoli, a Tampa resident for the past 23 years and the team's managing general partner and chief executive officer since the team's inception on March 9, 1995, continues to work as hard as anyone in the organization to make the Devil Rays a championship team.

The area's quest for a Major League Baseball team is by now a well-chronicled, 20-year success story borne of the diligence and determination of a long line of dedicated community leaders. In 1991, Naimoli accepted the challenge to bring the National Pastime to Tampa Bay and thereby make the region truly Major League in every sense. From the outset, Naimoli simply refused to accept failure and four years later, on March 9, 1995, Tampa Bay finally got its team and the estimated $200 million it will bring annually to the local economy.

For Naimoli, the work was only beginning. Long before the Major League Rays took the field in 1998, his commitment to building a successful organization was evident. It began when Naimoli saw to it that the Rays, two years before playing their first game, signed Baseball America's top-ranked lefthanded and righthanded high school pitchers from the 1996 free agent draft in Bobby Seay and Matt White, now two promising Rays' prospects. The Devil Rays then outbid many teams to land Cuban pitching ace Rolando Arrojo, the Rays' first American League All-Star. Next, the Rays purchased four of the organization's minor league affiliates, a practically unheard of practice, but one that assured the Rays of stability and uniformity throughout the minor league system.

Next, Naimoli and the Rays ownership group made a considerable financial investment for improvements to be made to Tropicana Field prior to the 1998 inaugural season. He insisted that Tropicana Field's design reflect the game's traditional ways and as a result, it has, among other distinctive features, asymmetrical outfield dimensions, seats close to the action and the first synthetic turf field in more than 20 years to incorporate dirt base paths.

As the stadium improvements began, he helped engineer a naming rights contract with Tropicana Products that will enable the City of St. Petersburg to receive payments of more than $13 million over the life of the contract. Naimoli also saw to it that major improvements were made at the team's expense at its spring training complex and spring training ballpark, Florida Power Park, Home of Al Lang Field.

Naimoli's commitment to producing a winning team was never clearer than this past off-season. The Rays were dogged in their pursuit of the best available talent and as a result added slugging outfielder Greg Vaughn, All-Star third baseman Vinny Castilla, Atlanta Braves center fielder Gerald Williams and solid veteran pitchers Juan Guzman and Steve Trachsel.

In typical fashion, Naimoli, a University of Notre Dame graduate, has emerged as a leader in tackling and trying to resolve tough issues important to the overall welfare of the game. In addition to serving on several MLB committees, he was named in January 1999 to the Blue Ribbon Task Force on Baseball Economics. Fellow committee members include executives from several teams and Senator George Mitchell, former Senate Majority Leader; Paul A. Volcker, former Chairman of the Board of the Federal Reserve System; Richard C. Levin, President of Yale University; and syndicated columnist George Will. The task force is currently analyzing all aspects of baseball's economic system and will make recommendations that address the economic issues and problems that exist in the game.

This past year Naimoli was recognized for his efforts when he was named one of the recipients of the prestigious 1999 Ellis Island Medal of Honor from the National Ethnic Coalition of Organizations. Also among those receiving the award for 1999 were First Lady Hillary Clinton, Senator John Glenn and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court William Rehnquist. Also in 1999, he received the Outstanding Leaders Award from Northwood University in West Palm Beach, Florida.

A firm believer in "giving back to the community," Naimoli has been involved in countless charitable projects throughout the Tampa Bay area. He has served as chairman or honorary chairman of numerous charitable fundraisers. Naimoli received the first "Bridging the Bay" Award in 1996 in recognition of his efforts to unite the citizens of Hillsborough and Pinellas Counties. He has received similar community service awards from the Urban League, the Jewish National Fund, the Tampa Sports Club, St. Petersburg Junior College, Boys and Girls Clubs, the Multiple Sclerosis Society, the City of St. Petersburg, the City of Tampa, and various other chambers of commerce.

Naimoli, who is Chairman, President, and Chief Executive Officer of Anchor Industries International, was named "1995 Florida Entrepreneur of the Year" in the "turnaround" category.

Creditors appointed Naimoli director of Harvard Industries in September 1992, one month after the company emerged from bankruptcy reorganization. A year later, the company attained almost $7 million in earnings, up from a loss of $131 million a year earlier. Doehler-Jarvis Inc, North America's largest independent manufacturer of aluminum castings, was preparing to file for bankruptcy in November 1991 when Naimoli assumed control. In 1992, the company lost $29 million; in 1993 it had profits of $10 million. Also notable were the turnarounds he led in the 1980's as Chief Executive Officer at Anchor Glass Container Corporation, Ladish Company, a Wisconsin industrial parts company, Electrolux Corporation and Regina Company and as a director of National Gypsum Company.

Naimoli was born and raised in Paterson, New Jersey, one of four children in a working class family. His father, the son of Italian immigrants, was employed by the New York City subway system and later taught himself to become a Stationary Engineer. A Brooklyn Dodgers fan as a youngster, one of his early baseball memories is a painful one: listening to his portable radio while on his newspaper route when Bobby Thomson's hit his home run for the New York Giants to beat the rival Dodgers for the 1951 National League pennant.

After graduating from Paterson Central High School, he attended Notre Dame on a Navy ROTC scholarship (he took the Marine Corps option) graduating in 1959 as a member of the Engineering Honor Society (TAU BETA PI). He took night classes at the New Jersey Institute of Technology earning his M.S. in mechanical engineering in 1962. Two years later, he received his M.B.A. from Fairleigh-Dickinson University (Magna Cum Laude) also through night classes, and in 1974 he completed Harvard Business School's Graduate Advance Management Program. He is a registered professional engineer in five states.

He is immediate Past Chairman of the University of Tampa's Board of Trustees and Lead Gifts Chairman for the school's first ever $80 million capital campaign, Director of Florida Progress Corporation and Russell Stanley Corporation. Naimoli received the Notre Dame College of Engineering Distinguished Service Award in 1987. He was also Chairman of the Notre Dame College of Business Advisory Council from 1992 to 1994 and is currently a member of the Notre Dame President's Development Council and its sub-committee on athletes. Naimoli also serves on Major League Baseball's Equal Opportunity, Legislative Affairs, Umpire Development and Revenue Sharing Committee.

An avid fan of all Fighting Irish athletic teams, Naimoli frequently attends Notre Dame football games with his wife, Lenda, who retired as an Eastern Airlines flight attendant after 24 years of service and who has an identical twin, Mrs. J.E. (Glenda) Young. He is the father of four daughters: Christine, an Arizona State graduate; Tory Ann Jarvis, a Stephens College and Kellogg Graduate School alumnus; Alyson, a Notre Dame graduate, Lindsey who is in high school and one grandchild, Jack Jarvis.

CHUCK LaMAR

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF BASEBALL OPERATIONS AND GENERAL MANAGER

Last September 7, the day his contract was extended through the 2004 season, his second extension since being named general manager and senior vice president of baseball operations in July 1995, Chuck LaMar made the following characterization of the Devil Rays: "We have an outstanding organization and if we continue on the path we have set forth in due time we will reap the benefits of the hard work, of the loyalty and of the confidence in our philosophy. The only thing keeping this organization from being recognized as one of the finest in major league baseball is the won-loss record at the major league level."

This past off-season, the 43-year-old LaMar took major steps to address his concern. Those efforts have made the Rays arguably the most improved team in the American League.

At the annual winter meetings in December, LaMar traded for Colorado Rockies All-Star third baseman Vinny Castilla, signed Cincinnati Reds' slugging free agent outfielder Greg Vaughn, and plucked veteran pitcher Chad Ogea from the Rule V draft.

Later that month, the Rays signed center fielder Gerald Williams, a catalyst for the Atlanta Braves' 40-16 run the last two months of last season. January brought two more important signings: 1996 American League earned run average champion Juan Guzman and National League workhorse Steve Trachsel.

And while the events of the past off-season have indeed caught the attention of many, it may be the date of May 5, 1999 that gives LaMar his most pleasure. It was on that night, that right-handed pitcher Ryan Rupe, the Rays sixth selection in the 1998 amateur draft, made his major league debut.

A quick check of LaMar's background and it becomes quite evident why the moment held such significance. Throughout his career, which began as a scouting supervisor for the Cincinnati Reds in 1985, LaMar has always placed heavy emphasis on scouting and player development. Just this past year he was named to the 1999 Pan Am Games Selection Committee, the latest testament to his scouting acumen.

Rupe's emergence as one of the finest young arms in the American League is the first fruit borne of the Rays' acclaimed farm system.

LaMar has assembled an experienced and respected baseball operations staff and has led them through four amateur drafts in addition to the expansion draft.

LaMar has engineered the construction of a six-team farm system that already ranks as one of the best in baseball featuring top-rated facilities, Devil Rays ownership and close proximity to Tampa Bay. All six affiliates are located on the East Coast. The crown jewel of the system is the Durham Bulls, the Rays' Triple-A affiliate. The Rays minor league record after their first two full seasons is 694-640, a .520 winning percentage, ninth best in all major league organizations over that span. In 1999, the Rays placed four teams in the postseason and claimed two league titles.

Prior to the Rays' inaugural season, he engineered moves that brought current Rays Fred McGriff, Roberto Hernandez, Wilson Alvarez, John Flaherty and Dave Martinez to Tampa Bay. A year later he addressed the team's most pressing need by bringing righthanded hitter Jose Canseco to the Rays.

He was also responsible for signing a trio of coveted free agent pitchers: Cuban ace Rolando Arrojo, the Rays' first All-Star, and 1996 first round draft picks Matt White and Bobby Seay, and handling the unique negotiations that went along with all three. LaMar also arranged for the Devil Rays to hold their major league spring training camp in their home city, a bold, unprecedented step in modern day baseball. And, it was his research and thoughtful insight that led to the all-dirt basepaths at Tropicana Field, the first indoor stadium in more than 25 years with that feature.

Under LaMar's leadership, the Devil Rays have made significant strides in the international arena, establishing a baseball academy in the Dominican Republic and signing a working agreement with the Mexico City Tigers in the Mexican League.

LaMar came to the Devil Rays from the Atlanta Braves where he had been Assistant General Manager for Player Personnel under Braves General Manager John Schuerholz.

LaMar joined the Braves organization as the club's Director of Scouting and Player Development in 1990. In 1993, he was promoted to assistant general manager for player personnel, in which capacity he oversaw the Scouting and Player Development Departments and was involved with all major league personnel matters.

With the Braves, LaMar helped form and implement baseball's first minority intern program in the areas of scouting and player development. In 1996, he established a similar program, called the Career Initiative Program, with the Devil Rays.

During LaMar's tenure, the Braves were honored by Baseball America in 1993 as the organization with the best minor league alignment, by The Sporting News and USA Today in 1992 as the Minor League Organization of the Year and by Baseball America in 1991 as Minor League Organization of the Year. In 1996, thanks in part to many of the players signed under LaMar's leadership, the Braves were chosen Baseball America's Organization of the Year. The Braves were National League Western Division Champions in 1991, 1992, 1993, and 1995. They were N.L. Champions in 1991 and 1992, and World Champions in 1995.

Prior to joining the Braves, LaMar had served as the Pirates Director of Minor League Operations for the 1989 and 1990 seasons. In that capacity he was responsible for all aspects of the Pirates minor league system and proved instrumental in helping to build the Pirates club which won three National League Eastern Division titles beginning in 1990. He also was responsible for signing one of Major League Baseball's first working agreements between a Major League club and Australian team.

LaMar started his major league career in 1985 as a scouting supervisor with the Cincinnati Reds helping build a team that won the World Championship in 1990. During his four years as scouting supervisor, LaMar signed 10 players who made the Reds' 40-man roster, seven of whom eventually played in the major leagues. He was also responsible for signing one of Major League Baseball's first working agreements with a Mexican League team.

In 1978, LaMar graduated from Texas Christian University with a B.S. Degree in Physical Education. While at TCU he captained the Horned Frogs baseball team and led TCU in Southwest Conference hitting in 1977. After graduating, he went on to teach and coach baseball at St. Thomas High School in Houston, Texas, for two years. He then advanced to the collegiate baseball ranks as an assistant coach at Indiana University in 1980-83 and head coach at the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor, an NAIA school in Belton, Texas, in 1983-85.

LaMar, who was born in Twin Falls, Idaho, and raised in Houston, Texas, was a three-sport lettermen and captained all three sports at Houston's Madison High School.

Baseball runs in his family. Three members of his family -his grandfather Charles Hart LaMar; his father, Charles William LaMar; and his younger brother, Danny, a first round draft choice of the Cincinnati Reds in 1979 - all played minor league baseball.

LaMar has also hosted fundraisers benefiting other local charities including the YMCA, the Boys and Girls Clubs of Tampa Bay and Clearwater for Youth.

Established in 1973, the Cronin Award recognizes significant achievement by an American League player. In January, the Tampa Tribune named him the top Tampa Bay Athlete of the Century. And in February, he was honored by the Ted Williams Museum for his accomplishment of 3,000 hits.

The five-time American League batting champion and 12-time A.L. All-Star finished his career with a .328 career batting average, 25th all-time in major league history among players with 5,000 or more at bats. It is the highest ever by a major league third baseman. His career spanned 2,440 games, 52nd most all-time. Boggs holds four American League and four major league records including the major league record for most games in a season with one or more hits (135).

He also finished among baseball's all-time leaders in doubles (13th with 578) and walks (21st with 1,412). Wade is the only player this century with seven consecutive 200-hit seasons. Overall, his seven 200-hit seasons are tied with Lou Gehrig, Charley Gehringer, Rogers Horsnby and Paul Waner as the fourth most in major league history and has been bettered by only one other player since World War II: Pete Rose with 10.

His 240 hits in 1985 remain the most by a major leaguer in the past 69 years. Wade is one of only four players to begin his career with ten or more consecutive .300 seasons joining Paul Waner, Al Simmons and Ted Williams.

He had 26 hitting streaks of at least 10 games, including three of 20 or more. Boggs batted over .400 in nine different months including a career-best .485 in June 1987.

When he homered off Cleveland southpaw Chris Haney last August 7, Boggs became the 23rd member of the 3,000 hit club, the first to reach that milestone with a home run. Boggs also hit the first home run in Devil Rays history off Detroit Tigers left-hander Justin Thompson on March 31, 1998 in the team's inaugural game.

Boggs spent the first 11 seasons of his career with the Boston Red Sox from 1982 through1992. He became one of four players to begin his career with 10 or more consecutive .300 seasons. He batted .338 with Boston, second-highest career average in club history behind Ted Williams' .344 mark. Boggs batted .349 as a Red Sox rookie, still an A.L. rookie record.

Wade spent the next five seasons with the New York Yankees and finished with a .313 batting mark, tied with Bill Dickey as the sixth best in club history. He won Gold Glove Awards, the first of his career, in 1994 and 1995 becoming the oldest first-time winner among non-pitchers (36 years old).

In 1996, he batted .311, second on the team, as he helped the Yankees to a World Series championship. His bases loaded walk off Atlanta's Steve Avery in the 10th inning of game #4 of the series drove in the game-winning run in New York's win which evened the series at 2-2.

In his 2,432 career games, Boggs:

- reached base safely (H-BB-HP) in 1,954...80%
- hit safely in 1,742 games...72%
- had 884 multi-hit games...36%
- had 600 2-hit games
- had 222 3-hit games
- had 59 4-hit games
- had 3 5-hit games
- reached base 5 times in 32 games
- struck out 2 or more times in only 80 games...once every 30 games
- struck out a career-high 3 times in only 12 games...once every 203 games

He finished his career having played 2,225 games at third base, fourth most in major league history behind Brooks Robinson, Graig Nettles and Gary Gaetti. He also finished with 4,247 assists at third base, eighth all-time.

Wade and his wife, Debbie, reside in Tampa with their son, Brett, and daughter, Meagann. He and Debbie are very active in Tampa Bay area charities. In 2000, he will serve as the Rays spokesman for the GTE Tampa Bay Reads program.

Wade attended Plant High School in Tampa where he was an all-state in football and baseball. Tampa folklore has it that he had 26 hits in the last 32 at bats of his high school career. He was signed by the Red Sox scout George Digby on June 10, 1976.

WHAT IS A DEVIL RAY?

Tampa Bay was granted a major league franchise on March 9, 1995. During the weeks surrounding that date, more than 7,000 suggested names were submitted by the people of Tampa Bay. Suggestions included such creative choices as Fruit Blossoms, Pteradactyls, Bigfeet, Backcrackers, Snowbirds and Toads.

The largest percentage of those suggestions included the name "Rays," an order of large, graceful fish that live primarily in the tropical waters off Florida's coast.

In a subsequent telephone contest in which more than 70,000 calls were received from Tampa Bay area residents, "Devil Rays" won out over "Manta Rays." Both names are actually used to describe the same fish. Devil Rays are the largest member of the Ray family measuring up to 23 feet long and weighing as much as 2,400 pounds. They are found in Florida waters: the Gulf of Mexico and along the Atlantic Coasts of the southern United States. They are massive, but gentle creatures, harmless to humans. The Devil Ray get its name from the cephalic fins on the head that look like devil's horns. Although they are quite large, Devil Rays are known to leap from the water and can sail up to 20 feet in the air. Females of the species actually lay their eggs in flight and their offspring are known as "Pup Rays." Devil Rays are virtually impossible to keep in captivity.

Tampa Bay Managing General Partner Vince Naimoli wanted a name germane to Tampa Bay. Devil Rays is a true reflection of that and so are the team colors which reflect the geography of the area. Included in the beautiful color gradations represent the blue, purple and black of Tampa Bay's gorgeous waters, the Florida West Coast's blue skies and golden sunsets, and the beautiful greenery found in the tropical landscape..

DEVIL RAYS CARE

In 1999, the Devil Rays provided in-kind donations to more than 400 Tampa Bay Area charities and were responsible for raising $1,057,723 for Tampa Bay Area charities. That total represents efforts of the Devil Rays organization, its players and front office members, and partnerships with corporate sponsors such as Lykes, Coors, Val-Pak, Florida Power, First Union, J.C. Newman, Pepsi, Transworld Diversified Services and GTE.

The Rays provided free guest speakers for more than 300 community events. The Rays have opened the doors at Tropicana Field for charity events benefiting ABILITIES, Hillsborough County's TIVY Math competition, Pediatric Cancer Foundation, St. Vincent De Paul Charities, the Pinellas County Education Foundation, the American Heart Association, Suncoast Children's Dream Fund, Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Tampa Bay and Academy Prep in St. Petersburg.

In 2000 as part of a new community grassroots program, the Rays players and members of the ownership group will purchase more than 40,000 tickets worth approximately $250,000 for needy citizens throughout Tampa Bay.

In November of 1999, the Tampa Bay Devil Rays and the School Board of Pinellas County entered into a unique partnership that promotes student achievement and honors those in the education profession. The Rays are working with other school systems in Tampa Bay hoping to develop a similar plan. The 20-point plan provides a number of unique opportunities for students, teachers and their schools.

Among the highlights of the agreement was the establishment in January of the Devil Rays and Pinellas County Schools Teacher Hall of Fame. In addition, Devil Rays players will be featured in 30-60 second promotional videos highlighting a particular academic task. The Devil Rays are sponsoring essay contests and student art contests. Pinellas County high school students will televise a Devil Rays home game in 2000, as they did in 1999 (see page 422) for more on last year's game. The Devil Rays will also hold a date to provide access for the school system's high school sports editors to cover a game during the season. The Devil Rays will host a celebrity softball game between educators and celebrities. Finally, the school system will also host a monthly cable show produced directed and filmed by students.

Additionally, athletic coaches from all high schools in Pinellas, Hillsborough, Pasco, Polk and Manatee were guests of the Rays at home games in 1999.

The Devil Rays have recently headed up relief efforts to benefit storm ravaged Puerto Rico, Venezuela, Northern and Central Florida. Closer to home in 1999, the Rays held a toy drive for the Christmas Toy Shop in St. Petersburg during a game in August (after the shop had been robbed) and made a cash donation to cover the cost of the stolen toys. Rays players delivered toys to the Toy Shop and Metropolitan Ministries at Christmas. The Devil Rays and their Florida State League minor league affiliate, the St. Petersburg Devil Rays fed 200 needy and homeless during the holidays. The Rays held Christmas parties for the Boys and Girls Clubs of St. Petersburg, and the Tampa Children's Home and are frequent visitors to the Sarasota Boys and Girls Clubs.

The Rays caravan once again reached into the Tampa Bay community during the off-season making more than two dozen stops in Tampa, St. Petersburg, Bradenton, Sarasota, Clearwater, Lakeland and Plant City. Stops included Boys and Girls Clubs, local hospitals and schools.

The Chuck LaMar Mercury Marine Grand Slam Celebrity Fishing Tournament has been held for the past two years in St. Petersburg. The 1999 tourney netted $220,000 for the Tampa-based Pediatric Cancer Foundation. LaMar has also hosted fundraisers benefiting other local charities including the YMCA, the Boys and Girls Clubs of Tampa Bay and Clearwater for Youth. Through Fred McGriff's annual golf tournament, the LaMar Fishing tournament and the Caring for Kids With Cancer program, the Rays and their sponsors (Transworld Diversified Services and Lucent Technologies) raised approximately $477,000 for the Pediatric Cancer Foundation in 1999.

The Rays "Shirts Off Our Back" promotion in which fans buy chances to win the game-worn uniform tops of each player, has brought the Muscular Dystrophy Association more than $44,000 the past two seasons. The Rays organization has gladly donated their uniforms for such a cause and will do so again in 2000.

The Devil Rays Wives presented a check for $44,000 to the ALS (Lou Gehrig's disease), the proceeds from their celebrity dinner where Devil Rays players served as waiters on July 18. The Wives also engineered a food drive that generated 5,237 pounds of food for Metropolitan Ministries.

Jose visited a number of Cuban refugee camps in 1994 bearing gifts for the youngsters. In 1999, he made a donation to a group known as "Club Arriba" – a Tampa-based program that aims at reducing the dropout rate among Hispanic youth, improving their self-esteem and promoting academic achievement. Late in the year he met with the youngsters from this group and, lo and behold, he was reunited with 16-year-old Vanessa Herrera who received a gift from Canseco five years earlier at one of the Cuban refugee camps.

CANSECO WINS "BIG LEAGUE CHALLENGE"

Jose Canseco represented the Tampa Bay Devil Rays, along with 11 other major league sluggers, in a home run contest sponsored by the Major League Baseball Players Association at Cashman Field in Las Vegas, Nevada, on February 12-13. Canseco eliminated Mike Piazza, former bash brother Mark McGwire and Chipper Jones before defeating Rafael Palmiero in the finals of the two-day tournament. The made-for-TV event will be shown by ESPN in March prior to the start of the regular season. Proceeds of the event went to Players Trust for Children.

- Led the Rays in HR (34), strikeouts (135) and slugging pct. (.563)...his K's were 5th in the AL...he was 9th in slugging.
- Was out July 10-Aug. 19 after undergoing back surgery on July 11 to repair a herniated disc...missed 35 games with the injury.
- Was leading the American League in home runs at the time of his injury...was also 8th in RBI (69), 4th in slugging (.622) and 5th in total bases (196).
- Became the 18th player to have 30+ home runs at the All-Star break, 9th American Leaguer.
- Had 21 road home runs by the break, matching the AL record (TOR George Bell-1987), and 6 shy of what the Rays hit as a team last year at the same time.
- Became the 15th player in ML history to hit 30 or more homers in 8 or more seasons...Hank Aaron has the most with 15.
- Also became the 8th player to have 30+ homers on July 4 this decade...most is 37 by Mark McGwire in 1998.
- Finished with a .279 batting average, his best mark since '96 (Boston-.289), 42 points higher than last season (TOR-.237) and 13 points better than his career mark coming into '99...is also the 5th-best avg. of his 14-year career...was over .280 for 65 of his 113 games, reaching a peak of .311 on June 14.
- His final HR of the season, Sept. 28 vs. Toronto, hit off the roof of the Batter's Eye Restaurant in dead centerfield at Tropicana Field - the 2nd player ever to so (McGriff on May 5, '99 vs. KC)
- Canseco averaged 10.16 home runs prior to his injury - only McGwire, Ruth, Sosa, Mantle, Greenberg and Maris have finished a season with a higher ratio...post surgery he tallied 3 home runs in 115 AB (1 every 38.3 AB)...overall was tied for 4th in the league with a HR every 12.6 AB

BEFORE THE INJURY:	82-G,	.276 (87/315),	31-HR,	69-RBI
AFTER THE INJURY:	31-G,	.287 (33/115),	3-HR,	26-RBI

- Became the first Devil Ray to be elected to the All-Star Game (at DH)...DNP due to the injury.
- With his HR July 4 off TOR Pat Hentgen, he became the first player ever to amass 30+ HR for 4 different teams (OAK, TEX, TOR, TB)...teammate Fred McGriff accomplished the feat later in the season.
- Had 2 multi-homer games on the season: April 21 vs. Baltimore & June 14 @ Chicago.

HR to fields breakdown: Left-28, LC-1, Center-2, RC-2, Right-1.

- Had a pair of 4-hit games on the year (both came in a 3-day period: June 12 @ Montreal & June 14 @ Chicago) - tied a Rays record.
- Collected a season-high 4 RBI June 2 @ Oakland and June 14 @ Chicago.
- Hit his 20th home run June 2 in Oakland breaking the Devil Rays' single season HR mark of 19 set by Fred McGriff in the inaugural season (tied the record before Memorial Day)...did it in the Rays' 53rd game...that marked the earliest a player had eclipsed his team's home run high from the previous season since St. Louis' Jack Clark did it in 43 games in 1987...Clark hit his 14th, surpassing the club-high 13 Andy Van Slyke hit for the Cards in 1986.
- That HR marked the 13th season he's tallied 20 or more homers.
- Hit in a season-best 10 straight games May 15-26 (19-47, .404, 7-HR, 15-RBI).
- Homered in 5 straight games (May 15-19) tying the longest such stretch of his career (Aug. 21-25, 1995 while with Boston) ...the Rays as a team didn't homer in five straight games in 1998.
- Finished May with 9 HR after becoming the 9th player in AL history to hit 10 home runs in April (his most ever for the month)...had 13 May HR in 1990, his most in a month...had 9 in June, 2 off his best June ever (11 in '94 while with Texas).
- Hit 10th HR in the Rays' 20th game which is the 3rd fastest to 10 this decade: BOS Mo Vaughn-17 games in '95, COL Larry Walker-19 games in '97.

- Broke Toronto's shutout April 12 with a 9th-inning 459 ft. home run into the upper deck off Graeme Lloyd, his first appearance against his former team...became the 4th player ever to hit a HR into the 5th deck at SkyDome, the 3rd time for him and the 6th time ever...had 4 HR at SkyDome, most by a visiting player...belted 6 HR's overall vs. the Jays, his most against any one club.

- Named AL Player of the Week for the period April 19-25 - 2nd Devil Ray ever to win the award.

WHAT GOES UP... Jose hit 2 balls at Tropicana Field in 1999 that did not come down (both landed on the "B" ring catwalks) - May 2 vs. Detroit - a fair ball ruled a double and a foul ball May 22 vs. Anaheim...Those are the only times it's happened at the Trop, but it's happened before elsewhere...only one other time has it occurred on a fair ball.

FOUR-TEAM TRADE

The move that brought Vinny Castilla from the Rockies to the Devil Rays on December 13, 1999 was part of a 9-player, four team trade that also involved the Brewers and Athletics. It went this way. The Rays traded P Rolando Arrojo and INF Aaron Ledesma to the Rockies for Castilla. The Rockies also traded P Jamey Wright and C Henry Blanco to the Brewers for 3B Jeff Cirillo and LHP Scott Karl. Finally, the Rockies sent P Justin Miller to the Athletics, who in turn sent P Jimmy Haynes to the Brewers to complete the deal.

It was the first 4-team trade since January 18, 1985 when the Rangers, Royals, Mets and Brewers pulled off a deal. The principal players in that six player trade were C Jim Sundberg (who went from Milwaukee to KC), C Don Slaught (who went from KC to Texas), P Danny Darwin (who went from Texas to Milwaukee) and P Tim Leary (who went from the Mets to KC).

THIRD BASEMAN

X-Ray Report

Vinny has served as color commentator for Spanish broadcasts for the past two World Series.

Career

- Has 4 straight 100-RBI seasons; only two third basemen in major league history have had more: Al Rosen (1950-54, Cleveland) and Pie Traynor (1927-31, Pittsburgh), both had five...Atlanta's Chipper Jones also has a current string of four.
- His current string of five straight 30-homer seasons are the third most ever by a third baseman. Only Eddie Mathews (9, 1953-61) and Mike Schmidt (8, 1979-84, 86-87) have had more.
- His last five years represent arguably the best combination of average and power ever by a third baseman over a 5-year span. Vinny's five-year stats and the other comparables are below:

Third Basemen Five-Year Comparisons

		AVG (H-AB)	HR	RBI
Vinny Castilla, Colorado	1995-99	.302 (915-3028)	191	562

- Over the last five years is 3rd in the majors in hits (915), 4th in games (778), 4th in total bases (1651) and 7th in home runs (191).
- Over the last five years (1995-1999) has averaged 38 home runs, 112 RBI and compiled a .302 batting average. Only three others in the majors have reached those numbers during that span: Mo Vaughn, Albert Belle and Juan Gonzalez.
- In each of the last five years (1995-1999) has averaged 150 hits, 20 doubles and 30 home runs - only two others in the majors have done it: Albert Belle and Rafael Palmeiro.

- Has played in 778 of the Rockies' 792 games (98%) over the last five years. In the majors, only Albert Belle (786), Rafael Palmeiro (783) and Craig Biggio (785) have played in more games during that span. That span also included a club record 307 consecutive games played streak (see below for more details under "1999").
- Is one of six active players, 15 all-time, to have hit 40+ home runs in three consecutive seasons. He joins fellow actives Mark McGwire, Jay Buhner, Andres Galarraga, Ken Griffey Jr. and Juan Gonzalez. The only other third baseman to do it was Eddie Mathews with Milwaukee, 1953-55.

- Helped the Colorado Rockies set National League records for most extra base hits and total bases in a season eclipsing records that had stood since 1930.
- Castilla, Dante Bichette, Larry Walker and Todd Helton combined to make the Rockies only the 4th team in major league history to feature four players with 30 home runs and 100 RBI.
- Was 8th in the National League with 615 at bats.
- On June 15 his 307 consecutive games played streak came to end when he got the day off...It was the first time he missed a game since June 25, 1997...It was then the longest active streak in the majors...It also snapped his major league leading 222 consecutive starts.

- Average was at a season-low .263 on July 26 before he went on a 37-for-98 (.376) tear to hike his average to .287 on Aug 21...Rest of the way, however, he batted only .233 (32-137)...Had a 10-game hitting streak, August 9-17 (18-for-40, .450)...During that streak, Castilla strung together seven consecutive multi-hit games, the second-longest such streak in club history.

- Entered June with only seven homers and 19 RBI, but had the most powerful game of his career in a 12-11 win vs. Milwaukee, June 5, when he went 4-for-5, and established career-highs and tied club records with three homers and 13 total bases.

- On June 7 vs. Seattle, skipper Jim Leyland employed a four-outfielder defense in the ninth against Ken Griffey, Jr., the first Griffey had seen in 1999; Castilla played (far) left field and pitcher Jerry Dipoto struck out Griffey swinging.
- On August 13, his first-inning single off Javier Vazquez marked his 1,000th career hit...Two days later, he posted his 1,000th hit in a Rockies uniform...On August 28 in Game 1 vs. Philadelphia, he ended another extraordinary streak; he went hitless against the Phillies, snapping a 19-game hitting streak against them, dating back to May 11, 1997...It is believed to be one of the longest player-opponent streaks in NL history.
- On September 14 vs. New York, hit his 200th career homer, a third-inning blast off Octavio Dotel; it also marked his 30th of the season, and 200th in a Colorado uniform.

- His 144 RBI were more than any third baseman in National League history, and second only to Cleveland's Al Rosen, who drove in one better in 1953.
- His 46 homers have been bettered by only two third basemen in major league history: Mike Schmidt (48 in 1980) and Eddie Mathews (47 in 1953. He also hit 46 in 1959).
- Castilla's 46 homers were the third most in franchise annals, trailing Walker's 49 in 1997 and Galarraga's 47 in 1996.
- The only Rockie to start every game during any single season, he set career highs in average (.319), runs (108), homers (46), RBI (144), multi-hit games (61), hits (206), total bases (380), slugging percentage (.589), and extra-base hits (78).
- The only NL player to start each of his club's games in 1998
- Among NL leaders, finished fourth in homers, third in RBI (behind only McGwire and Sosa), fourth in multi-hit games, third in hits, third in total bases, tied for seventh in slugging percentage and seventh in extra-base hits.
- His career-high hit total (206) remains the fourth highest in Colorado history, behind only Bichette (219, 1998), Burks (211, 1996) and Walker (208, 1997).
- In the first game of the season, at Arizona March 31, he belted two homers to lead the Rockies' to a 9-2 win, the first of six multi-homer games for Vinny in 1998.
- Homered on Apr 16 vs. Los Angeles, the 130th homer of his career, tying him with Jorge Orta - the all-time career HR leader among Mexican born players.
- Put together the first of two season-high 14-game hitting streaks, April 5-19, and in the final six games of the streak he knocked in 14 runs..
- On May 14 vs. Chicago, Vinny equaled his career high with five hits, including a double, homer and three RBI.
- Homered in four consecutive games May 31-June 3, going 7-for-15 with 10 RBI during the stretch (vs. Houston and Arizona).
- Earned an All-Star invitation and was a member of the NL team in the home run contest on Monday, then went 0-for-2 in the game at Coors Field Tuesday
- Enjoyed a career best month in July, hitting .381 with 12 homers and 25 RBI in the Rockies' 25 games; the 12 homers tied the club record for a month.
- Had a pair of six-RBI games to tie his career high during that stretch...On September 4 vs. San Diego, he was 3-for-5 with six RBI and two homers, his 40th and 41st on the year to establish a single-season career high...Then went 3-for-6 with a homer and six RBI vs. the Marlins September 8.
- On Sep 27, hit his 46th home run, a two-run, seventh-inning shot off the Giants' Julian Tavarez giving the Rockies a 9-8 win and capping a seven-run comeback.
- Batted .361 (65-for-180) with men in scoring position, the seventh-best mark in the NL.
- Earned his second consecutive, and third overall, Louisville Silver Slugger Award, the most ever by a Rockies player.
- Toured Japan with other major-league All-Stars in a friendship series after the '98 season.

1997

- Amazingly in '97, he duplicated his .304 average, 40 homers and 113 RBI from 1996.
- In April he hit .360 (32-for -89) with nine homers and 25 RBI in 24 games...Castilla earned NL Player of the Week honors, April 7-13, after hitting .438 (7-for-16) with a pair of homers, two doubles and seven RBI.
- By July 16 his average had dipped to .271 but from that point on, he batted .350 (89-for-254), hitting safely in 56 of his final 66 games.
- A career-best 22-game hitting streak, August 9 - September 1, fell one game short of the club record...Was 32-for-83 (.385) during the 22 games, with eight homers and 16 RBI, bumped his average from .294 to .308.

- Started 155 games at third base...Began 41 double plays to top all NL third basemen for the second consecutive season.

- Castilla's 40th homer in his last at bat of the year gave the Rockies just the second three-some (Andres Galarraga and Ellis Burks) in major-league history to hit at least 40 home runs. The first was the 1973 Atlanta Braves (Davey Johnson, Hank Aaron and Darrell Evans), The 1997 Rockies subsequently became the third and most recent team with three 40-homer guys (Larry Walker, Galarraga and Castilla).
- Hit the Rockies' only two grand slams in '96, the only two of his career: Apr 6 at Montreal off Kirk Rueter and July 12 vs. San Diego off Willie Blair....The latter gave the Rockies the lead in an 11-run inning enroute to a 13-12 victory.
- On three occasions he homered in three consecutive games...Was the NL Player-of-the-Week, June 10-16, hitting .346 (9-for-26), with seven runs, four homers and eight RBI...Had four multiple-homer games during the year.

1995, POSITION SWITCH

- After two seasons of platoon duty at shortstop and second base, he made his third position switch in as many years and made the All-Star team as a third baseman...Started the Midsummer Classic, picked by NL manager Felipe Alou to replace a sidelined Matt Williams...Originally a shortstop when signed by the Braves, Vinny went to the Arizona Instructional League during the 1994 players' strike to get work at third base, then earned an All-Star spot at that position in 1995 with the Rockies.
- Led the club with six multi-homer games, and was the first Rockie in history to homer twice in back-to-back games, turning the trick July 7-8 vs. Montreal.
- Was NL Player-of-the-Week from May 8-14, batting .609 (14-for-23) with four homers and 14 RBI; on May 12 he turned in a four-hit, two-homer, six-RBI game at Florida.
- In Game 1 of the first NLDS vs. Atlanta, his fourth-inning, two-run homer snapped a 1-1 tie, though the Braves came back to win. He hit another two-run homer at Atlanta in Game 3, again breaking a tie, and then drove in an insurance run in the 10th inning of the Rockies' only postseason win.

- Made nine appearances for the Rockies before his AAA option; then, June 4, he returned to the majors, where he has remained since.
- Started at least two games at each infield position...Made his first ever appearance at first base July 29 at San Francisco, the game after Andres Galarraga suffered a broken hand.

- In his first full big-league season, Vinny platooned at short with Freddie Benavides.
- Built a 12-game hitting streak in mid-May, but a May 19 ankle sprain halted his playing time.
- Established a club mark with two triples vs. Florida on April 25, then two nights later he hit his first major-league homer, a solo shot at home off Chicago's Dan Plesac.

X-Ray Report

An avid rock-climber and spelunker, Mike had a scary encounter while caving in West Virginia during his college days. After a few hours in the cave, Mike's then-fiance Shannon and one of his buddies were the first to climb the 40-foot rope and get out. That's when the rope broke, leaving Duvall and his roommate stuck in the freezing cold, and dark, for nearly an hour.

- Twenty-five year old rookie broke camp with the big club, marking the first of 3 stops with the Devil Rays in '99...was optioned April 23 to AAA Durham and up again May 26-July 6 and July 16 through season's end.
- Made 40 appearances...his only other big league experience was 3 games for the Rays at the end of the '98 season.
- Surrendered runs in just 3 of his 16 games over his first two tours with the Rays (4-ER, 3.27 ERA)...compiled a 4.34 ERA (29.0-IP/14-ER, 20-BB) in his last stint (24-G), but registered a 1.53 ERA (17.2/3) in his final 14 apps.
- Earned his first big league victory Sept. 27 @ New York, 10-6 the final...tossed 2.2 innings in relief, with his only hit allowed a Ricky Ledee HR.
- Tossed a career-high 3.0 innings on two occasions - July 23 vs. Texas and Aug. 23 vs. Chicago.
- Faced one batter 11 of his 40 apps.
- Allowed just 1-ER in 18 road outings (16.2-IP, 0.54 ERA, .179 avg. against), but 17-ER in 22 Tropicana Field appearances (23.1-IP, 6.56 ERA, .356 avg. against).
- Spent a stint on the disabled list June 9-July 6 with a right oblique strain...left the game June 8 @ Atlanta with the injury.

- Missed the first month of the season with a strained left shoulder.
- Activated May 13 and made two rehabilitation appearances for Class A St. Petersburg (2.70 ERA) before moving to Triple-A Durham five days later. Received his first call to the big leagues September 19 following the Bulls' season.
- Appeared in three road games out of the 'pen for the Rays, making his major league debut at Boston September 22 (2.2 IP, 2 H, 3 R, 3 ER, 2 BB).
- Made two scoreless appearances at New York (September 25, 27) surrendering a pair of hits over 1.1 innings.
- Pitched out of the 'pen for Durham until July 25 when he joined the rotation and delivered a string of nine consecutive starts to close out the regular season.
- Was 4-2 with a 3.26 ERA as a starter; 1-1, 3.16 as a reliever.
- Limited left-handed hitters to a .220 average.
- Made a pair of appearances (one start) in the International League postseason, allowing two earned runs over 6.0 innings of work (3.00 ERA).

- During his career has held opponents to a .242 batting average (1353-5592) including .229 (622-2722) by lefthanded hitters and .255 (731-2870) by righties...The league average during his career has been .269...In 7 of his 9 seasons, he has held opposing batters to 15 or more points below the league average.

- His sharp breaking split-finger pitch is chiefly responsible for his 105 career wild pitches-7th among active pitchers...Still holds the all-time AL record for most wild pitches in one season, 26 in 1993...Only 3 pitchers in major league history have thrown as many in one season: 30-Red Ames, NY Giants, 1905; 27-Tony Cloninger, Atlanta Braves, 1966 and 26-Larry Cheney, Chicago Cubs, 1914...Also holds the record for most career wild pitches in League Championship Series play (4) including a LCS record 3 in one game (Oct 5, 1993 vs. Chi WS). He also tied for the AL lead in wild pitches in 1994 and led three of his minor leagues in that category: Gulf Coast League (1985), Florida State League (1986) and the Southern League (1990).
- Is one of four Dominican born pitchers to win an ERA title...Guzman won the AL ERA crown in 1996...The others: Pedro Martinez (NL in 1997 with Montreal; AL in 1999 with Boston); Alejandro Pena (NL in 1984 with Los Angeles) and Juan Marichal (NL in 1969 with San Francisco).
- Is 5-1 lifetime in 9 postseason games, 8 starts...Has a 2.43, IP-51.2, H-45, ER-14, BB-28, SO-43...His 5-0 lifetime record in League Championship Play is 2nd best in LCS history behind Dave Stewart's 8-0 mark. His 5 wins are 3rd behind Stewart and John Smoltz (6) and his 2.27 ERA is 9th best (min 30 innings).
- Remains one of four pitchers since 1952 to have had single season streaks of 20 or more unbeaten starts. Guzman did it in 1991...The others: Dave McNally (26 starts in 1969), Roger Clemens (22 in 1998) and Jack Sanford (20 in 1952).
- His 5 starts and 32 innings against the Devil Rays in 1998 are the most by an opponent in one season.

- Pitched 200 innings for the second straight year and third time in his career...His 33 starts matched his career-high set in '93 and '98.

- After being acquired by the Reds on July 31 he led the Reds starters in ERA over the remainder of the season (3.03) and was 6-3 in 12 starts...Cincy bullpen blew two leads for him
- Finished with the 15th best ERA in the majors (3.73), but didn't have enough innings to qualify among either league's leaders..
- After struggling in April (0-3, 8.10), had the major league's 7th best ERA over the rest of the season: 3.16 ERA (IP-176.2, ER-62) while going 11-9.

When Albie Lopez was called up by the Indians for the first time in 1993, it was a case of good news-bad news for his parents, Albert and Gloria. They had just driven 36 hours from their home in Mesa, AZ to see him pitch for Canton-Akron, but the night they arrived in Ohio, Albie got the call to join the Indians for their game in Oakland. They ended up watching his major league debut on ESPN.

- Stole 2 bases April 23 vs. Seattle, tying the club record for thefts in a game...it was the first time for "Q" as a Devil Ray and the 6th in his career (last time May 31, 1997 @ Florida while with Colorado).

- Enjoyed his best offensive game of the season April 21 vs. Baltimore, going 3-for-5 with a triple and his lone HR, a 3-run shot off Doug Linton...his 4-RBI tied his career high (3rd time, last-June 15, 1998 vs. Toronto)...the homer was his first since that '98 Toronto game when he registered the only 2-homer game of his career.

- His batting average was over .300 until June 20...Only once all season did he go three consecutive starts without a hit. That was June 3-4-5 and in the middle game he walked 3 times.

ESPN, MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL REACH SIX-YEAR AGREEMENT

On December 6, 1999, ESPN, Inc. and Major League Baseball reached a new six-year, regular-season multimedia agreement beginning in 2000 which calls for a significant increase in the number of annual televised hours the company will devote to baseball, including extensive game and studio coverage on ESPN2.

Each year from 2000 through 2005, ESPN and ESPN2 will present more than 800 hours of regular-season game and studio coverage, up from approximately 500 hours on both networks in 1999.

ESPN2 will increase its coverage from 30 hours in 1999 to 290 hours annually, including a minimum of 44 games on Wednesday nights, select Sunday nights, and holidays, a new series, Baseball 2Day, a Sunday afternoon recap/preview show; and additional presentations of ESPN's Baseball Tonight. Other highlights include:

- Full coverage of up to 108 regular-season games a year on ESPN and ESPN2, up from more than 90 in 1999. ESPN's exclusive Sunday Night Baseball series will continue. Each week's Wednesday doubleheaders will generally feature one game each on ESPN and ESPN2.
- Baseball Tonight, ESPN's daily studio show featuring highlights, news and analysis, will expand its hours on ESPN, with additional programs airing on ESPN2 for the first time — including weekday morning re-airs.
- Expanded opening day and holiday game coverage on ESPN and ESPN2 — as many as three games per day on each network.

- Fractured his left arm (spiral break of the left humerus - bone from shoulder to the elbow) in his 9th season start, May 26 at Tropicana Field vs. Texas, ending his season...the injury occurred in the 3rd inning on his 53rd pitch...he had the bone successfully reduced (reset) that night at Bayfront Medical Center by Drs. Bill Carson and Koco Eaton.

THE LAST TIME IT HAPPENED...The most recent occasions of a major league pitcher suffering a broken arm while throwing:

- John Smiley, Cleveland Indians-Sept., 20, 1997...warming up in preparation for his start against the Royals at Kansas City...suffered a broken left humerus bone.
- Tom Browning, Cincinnati Reds-May 10, 1994...broken left arm while pitching vs. San Diego.
- Dave Dravecky, San Francisco Giants-Aug. 15, 1989...pitching at Montreal in the 6th inning...suffered broken left humerus bone.

- Was optioned to Durham after his May 3 start vs. Detroit...he lasted just 3.0 innings in that game (8-H, 6-R/ER, 1-BB, 3-SO), matching his briefest outing of the season (April 17@ Boston) and his shortest overall stint since pitching 1.1 innings Sept. 7, 1997 @ Los Angeles while with Florida...was 2-3, 8.67 (27.0-IP, 26-ER) thru that outing.
- Made one start for Durham, Saturday, May 8, his first appearance in the minors (not on rehab assignment) since 1996...worked 7.0 innings (8-H, 3-R, 2-ER, 2-BB, 7-SO) and didn't get the decision in Durham's 8-7 win over Pawtucket at Durham.

- Recalled May 13 and started 2 days later at Anaheim...equaled a career-high 8.0 innings (last time 9/5/98 @ Oakland) on route to a 3-1 Rays victory...scattered just 6 base runners in the game.
- Went 1-0 with a 2.40 ERA (15.0-IP/4-ER) in his last 3 starts before the injury.
- Came within 4 outs of the first no-hitter in Rays history, April 22 vs. the Orioles with a 1-0 victory (7.2-IP, 1-H, 7-BB, 5-SO, 127-pit)...it was the only 1-0 game in club history...his 7 walks tied a career high (July 24, 1998 vs. Oakland) ...the combined shutout with Jim Mecir and Roberto Hernandez was the Rays' first of the season...lone hit was a single by Mike Bordick.
- Earned the 8-5 win in the Rays' first victory of the season, April 7 @ Baltimore (2nd game of '99) - 5.0-IP, 6-H, 1-R/ER, 5-BB, 2-SO.
- Was 3-0 with 0.72 ERA (25.0-IP/2-ER) in 4 starts against Baltimore and Anaheim; 0-3, 14.82 (17.0/28) in his other 5 starts.

- Posted a 6-15 record despite a 4.12 ERA, largely because he received the lowest run support of all American League pitchers (3.51 runs/9 inn.). No other AL pitcher received less than 4/per game. Fifteen times the Rays scored 2 runs or less for Saunders.
- His 4.12 ERA was 19th in the AL and 7th-best among AL lefties -- still, 61 AL pitchers won more games.
- Had the lowest winning percentage among AL starters, but had a lower ERA than 20-game winner Rick Helling, 19-game winner Aaron Sele, 17-game winner Tim Wakefield (who led the AL in run support at 7.29), 16-game winner Andy Pettitte, and 15-game winner Charles Nagy.
- Was one of three current Devil Ray pitchers to rank in the top 20 in the major leagues in strikeouts and have a losing record: Juan Guzman (Tor, Bal) and Pedro Astacio (Col).
- Had a team-high 20 quality starts.
- Recorded 8.05 strikeouts per 9 innings, 4th-best ratio among major league lefties (only Chuck Finley, Randy Johnson, Al Leiter were better).
- Had 22 starts in which he allowed 3 earned runs or less, including 11 of his first 14 starts when he was 1-7...Only 5 in the AL had more such starts.
- Led the majors with 111 BBs and was 9th in AL with 172 strikeouts
- Had only one win in his first 19 starts and won only once in his first 12 starts at Tropicana Field...Won his last two starts there including a combined 7-0 shutout over the Yankees and a win over Texas.
- Allowed just 0.7 home runs/9 inn., 4th-best among AL pitchers.
- In 5 July starts, was 2-0 with a 1.72 ERA (IP-31.1, ER-6) - 3rd best in the AL behind David Cone (0.69) and Pedro Martinez (1.22)... In 1997, Saunders posted the majors' 3rd best ERA in July behind Clemens and Livan Hernandez.
- Struck out 10 Red Sox batters on June 19 the first Devil Ray to reach double figures.
- Posted a 3.50 ERA after the All-Star Game, but was 5-6...Was 1-9, 4.66 before.
- Went 16 straight starts without a win (0-8) between April 22 - July 17. Allowed 3 earned runs or less in 11 of those starts and Rays scored 2 runs or less in 11 of those 16 starts.
- Had minor surgery to remove a bone chip from his lect elbow three days after the season ended.

1997

- Became the first rookie to beat the Braves three times in one season since Scott Scudder did it for the Reds in 1989.

- Marlins were 13-8 in his 21 starts
- Averaged 8.24 strikeouts per 9 innings, tops among all major league rookies as well as Marlins starters and 7th among NL starters with at least 20 starts.
- Opponents hit .244, tied with the Phillies Garrett Stephenson for 4th best among NL rookies (min 50 IP).
- Began the season as the Marlins fifth starter and made his major league debut on Apr 5 vs. Cincinnati (IP-6.2, H-4, R-3, ER-3, BB-2, SO-3). He didn't get the decision in the

- On May 8, he earned his first major league win beating Atlanta and Tom Glavine, 5-1 at Pro Player Park. Pitched six scoreless innings (H-4, BB-0, SO-4) and homered off Glavine for his first major league hit.
- Five days later, he won again beating new teammate Terrell Wade at Atlanta, 11-5 (IP-7, H-5, R-3, ER-3, BB-1, SO-6).
- In his next start at Pittsburgh on May 18 he left after five innings with a 2-1 lead after injuring his knee. Collided with the Pirates' Kevin Young while running out a ground ball and suffered a partial tear of the posterior cruciate ligament in his right knee.
- Did not have surgery, but went on the disabled list the next day and wasn't reactivated until July 10.
- Return to post the 3rd best ERA in the majors in July (1.44, IP-31.1, ER-5), but only won one game, a 1-0 decision over Atlanta (IP-7, H-4, BB-4, SO-7) on July 31.

X-Ray Report

Bubba went shopping for a new truck on August 9, 1997, but wasn't sure he could afford the purchase. So he told his wife, Melissa, that if he hit four home runs that night for Toledo, they'd buy the truck. Guess what? Trammell indeed hit four homers that night, the last one a 13th-inning game-winner. "I said that to my wife because I thought there was no way," said Trammell. He still drives the Chevy Tahoe.

- Recalled from AAA Durham June 14 and started 77 of the Devil Rays' remaining 94 games - 54-LF, 18-RF, 5-DH.
- Was the Rays' last cut in the spring...was optioned to Triple-A April 3...hit .156 (7/45) in spring with a HR, 2-RBI in 16-G.

RIGHT-HANDED PITCHER

X-Ray Report

Rick says that after "barely" graduating from high school, he planned on looking for a job. His parents, however, talked him into going to college (Paducah Community College) and continuing his baseball career. He wound up earning an applied sciences degree, twice being named All-Confererence, and getting drafted by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Rick hopes to someday thank his parents for their advice by buying them a new house.

- Ran a season-high string 7 scoreless outings May 17-29 (8.2-IP).
- Worked back-to-back games 8 times on the season.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD, PRESENTED BY JOHN HANCOCK

Since 1970, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award (originally known as "The Commissioner's Award") which recognizes the player who best exemplifies the game of baseball, sportsmanship, community involvement and the individual's contribution to his team. The award, now sponsored by John Hancock Financial Services, recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

In 1972, following the tragic death of Robeto Clemente, the award was renamed to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer, was killed in a plane crash New Years Eve, 1972, delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims of Nicaragua.

Early in the season, each team will be asked to submit three candidates to MLB. A local panel formed by John Hancock Financial Services and made up of local community representatives will select a nominee from each club. A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig, will then select a winner from the list of 30 nominees. The winner of the Roberto Clemente Award will receive a $25,000 donation from John Hancock Financial Services for the local charity of his choice at an on-field ceremony during the World Series. John Hancock will also make a cash contribution to the Roberto Clemente Foundation and to each nominee's local charity.

Past winners include Tony Gwynn (1999), Sammy Sosa, Willie Mays, Lou Brock, Ozzie Smith, Cal Ripken Jr., Kirby Puckett and others.

Herbert grew up on a 1,000-acre, 1,000-cow dairy farm in the northern Florida town of Mayo in Lafayette County, the smallest county in the state. In 1996, he and his younger brother Chan, a minor leaguer in the Indians chain, bought the farm from his parents, and they pay their father Herbert, Sr. to manage it. Herbert spent the entire off-season working on the farm. Included among his duties were birthing calfs.

- Surpassed his career major league totals in games (66), AB (209), runs (29), hits (53-tie), HR (6), RBI (32) and strikeouts (42) despite not joining the Rays until May 6 and missing nearly six weeks with a left oblique strain.

- Started 52 games: 3B-37, DH-5, LF-2, 1B-8...started in LF June 1 at Oakland, the first outfield appearance of his career.
- Selected by the Rays May 6 from AAA Durham when Wade Boggs was DL'd.
- Started 10 of the Rays' first 11 games (all at 3B) after his promotion, hitting safely in 9 of the 10 (inclu. 6 straight 5/11-18) ...also tallied 5 doubles and 3 multi-RBI gms over that span.

1999 SEASON SUMMARY

INJURIES

The Devil Rays suffered the most injuries in the major leagues in 1999. The Rays put 18 different players on the disabled list (22 total moves to the DL) after Opening Day. That number doesn't include INF Aaron Ledesma who dislocated his left thumb in the final spring training game and was out until May 12, or Randy Winn who was out from Sept 5 to Oct 2 with a sprained right ankle.

All told, the 22 in-season moves accounted for 863 days on the DL. Fifteen of the Rays' 25-man Opening Day roster spent time on the disabled list including 8 of the 11 pitchers and four of the five pitchers in the club's season-opening rotation. Of the 13 pitchers who started a game for the Rays in 1999, eight spent time on the DL.

The Rays had five players suffer a season-ending injury: LHP Tony Saunders (arm), RHP Jim Mecir (elbow), OF Quinton McCracken (knee), SS Kevin Stocker (knee) and 3B Wade Boggs (knee). That doesn't include DH Jose Canseco who missed six weeks (July 10 to August 20) after undergoing successful back surgery.

On May 22, the Rays were 22-20, 2nd best record ever by a 2nd year expansion team, but an injury ridden, 16-day span, May 12-28, left the Rays reeling. During that stretch, Tampa Bay lost three players to season-ending injuries: 1998 MVP Quinton McCracken (knee), starting pitcher Tony Saunders (arm) and bullpen workhorse Jim Mecir (elbow). In addition, 1998 All-Star Rolando Arrojo (shoulder) and another bullpen stalwart, Albie Lopez (oblique muscle), went on the DL during that period.

Ten times during the season, Rays pitchers were forced from a game due to injury: Dave Eiland (4 times), Wilson Alvarez (twice), Mickey Callaway, Mike Duvall, Albie Lopez and Tony Saunders (once).

RAYS WERE BEST AGAINST THE AL'S BEST

The Devil Rays were the only team to beat the top five American League ERA leaders: Boston's Pedro Martinez, NY's David Cone, Baltimore's Mike Mussina, Minnesota's Brad Radke and KC's Juan Rosado.

HOME AND AWAY

The Rays 36 road wins were six more than in 1998 and the 3rd most road wins by a 2nd year expansion team behind the 1999 Arizona Diamondbacks (48) and the 1962 Los Angeles Angels (46)... Rays won on the last day of the season to give them 33 home wins, same as 1998...Rays 11-game home losing streak, May 22-June 24, matched the 3rd longest home losing streak of the 1990s behind the 1997 Detroit Tigers who lost 17 straight, the 1994 Chicago Cubs who lost 12 straight and the 1994 Boston Red Sox who lost 12 straight. The 1999 Florida Marlins also lost 11 straight at home as did the 1996 Detroit Tigers. The Rays snapped the streak with a win over Toronto on June 25, their first win ever over David Wells.

ONE-RUN WONDERS

The Rays were 27-20 in one-run games, the most one-run wins in the AL and the 4th best record...The last time a last place team had a better record in one-run games was 1994 when the Milwaukee Brewers (18-10) and Florida Marlins (23-13) both had better marks.

RAYS OFFENSE: AL'S 2nd MOST IMPROVED

The Rays scored 152 more runs in 1999 than in 1998 (620 to 772) - 2nd greatest improvement in the American League behind the Cleveland Indians (850 to 1009). The Rays hit 34 more home runs than the previous year (111 to 145)- 3rd biggest increase in the AL behind Oakland (+86, 149 to 235) and Detroit (+47, 165 to 212). The team batting average was a 13-point increase over 1998 (.261 to .274) - 4th best in the AL...Tampa Bay went from 13th in the AL in batting in 1998 to 9th in 1999...The Rays .252 average vs. lefties was the lowest in the AL. The Rays batted .280 vs. righties- tied for 4th best in the league...The Rays won a major league low 8 games when lefthanders started against them...The Rays batted 13 points higher on the road (.267 at home to .280 on the road)- the 2nd biggest disparity in the AL behind the Yankees who hit 18 points higher on the road than at home...Rays pinch-hitters had the fewest pinch hits in the majors (8) ...Rays outfielders combined to hit 37 home runs - fewest in the majors...Tampa Bay scored an average of only 4.58 runs per game at home- 4th lowest average in the AL. Only Anaheim (4.16 per home game), Chicago (4.49) and Minnesota (4.41) scored fewer...Tampa Bay hit only 66 home runs at Tropicana Field- 2nd fewest homers at home ahead of only the Minnesota Twins who hit only 47 at the Metrodome.

RAYS CATCHERS, AL'S MOST IMPROVED POSITION

Rays catchers (John Flaherty and Mike DiFelice) improved their batting average 71 points from 1998 to 1999 - the greatest improvement by any position in the American League. Rays backstops went from .216 to .287...Next up was Red Sox second basemen who upped their average 68 points from 1998, thanks mainly to the addition of Jose Offerman. Rays catchers threw out 65 of 166 attempted base stealers, a .391 percentage, 3rd best in the majors behind Texas (.505) and St. Louis (.407). The major league average in 1999 was .271. Flaherty threw out 49 of 127 (.386) attempted base stealers, 2nd behind Texas' Ivan Rodriguez. DiFelice threw out an even more impressive 16 of 39 (.410), but lacked enough attempts to qualify among the leaders.

CANSECO AND McGRIFF

In 1999, teammates Jose Canseco and Fred McGriff became the first two players in major league history to hit 30+ home runs with four different teams...Jose had previously done it with Oakland, Toronto and Texas. McGriff has hit 30 or more with Atlanta, Toronto San Diego and the Devil Rays...The two were in the lineup together for a total of only 98 games, or 60% of the Rays games...The Rays were 45-53 (45-47 vs. the AL) when they were in the lineup; 24-40 when they weren't...At the time Canseco suffered his back injury on July 10, he and McGriff were leading the majors in home runs by teammates (50)... Canseco and McGriff had hit 17 home runs out of the DH spot by May 20; Rays DHs hit only 16 in all of 1998.

RAYS DEFENSE

The Rays turned a major league high 198 double plays- most by an American League team since the 1985 California Angels turned 202...In the last 43 years (since 1956), only four AL clubs have turned more: 1979 Minnesota Twins (203), the 1980 Boston Red Sox and Toronto Blue Jays (both turned 206) and the 1985 Angels. Tampa Bay errors increased from 94 to 135 the biggest dropoff in fielding by an AL team since the 1992-93 Milwaukee Brewers made 48 more errors from one year to the next...The Rays went from the AL's 2nd best team in fielding in 1998 to 2nd worst in 1999...Tampa Bay made only 13 errors in the first 30 games, but committed 122 in the last 132 games...Rays had 70 errorless games (37-33), 21 fewer than in 1998.

UP WITH ERA

Rays allowed 162 more runs than in 1998. The last major league team to experience such a dramatic increase was the 1992-93 Twins who allowed 177 more runs from one year to the next...Rays ERA in 1998 was 4.35 (4th in the AL and only the 2nd expansion team ever - joining the 1962 Houston Colt .45s to be below the league average in their first year)...In 1999, the Rays ERA experienced the biggest increase in the majors (0.71 points) to 5.06 - 10th in the AL...Between August 10 and September 5 however, the Rays posted the lowest ERA in the AL with a 3.29 (IP-210.2, ER-77) mark over that span and allowing 3 ER or less in 17 of the 22 games (14-8).

Their 5.24 home ERA was the 2nd highest in the AL behind Seattle...Their 5.24 ERA the first half of the season was 11th, while their 4.83 after the All-Star Break was 6th best...Tampa Bay pitchers threw the 2nd most pitches in the majors - 17.3 per inning- behind the San Francisco Giants...The Rays bullpen hurled a major league high 556.1 innings, 54.1 innings more than a year ago...The relievers were 11th in the AL in ERA (4.63) and the starters were 12th (5.33)...The Rays allowed 172 home runs- 4th lowest in the AL. They allowed 171 in 1998.

The Rays and Montreal became the 33rd and 34th teams since 1900 that haven't had a 10-game winner (excluding abbreviated seasons)... There were five others in the '90s (most recently Colorado and Oakland in 1997).

AUGUST WAS AWESOME

The Devil Rays celebrated their first winning month in club history in August when they went 16-12 pushing them out of the AL East cellar past the Orioles and into fourth place on September 1. The Rays were led in August by pitchers Wilson Alvarez (4-0, 2.12) and Rolando Arrojo (2-2, 2.21) who finished 3rd and 5th respectively in the AL in ERA that month...The Rays went 16-9 in their last 25 games of the month, the best stretch of 20 or more games in the club's brief history.

MILESTONES

Wade Boggs reached 3,000 hits on August 7 at Tropicana Field when he hit homered off Cleveland lefthander Chris Haney in his 9,151st career at bat and his 2,429th career game. He became the 23rd player to reach the milestone, first player to do it with a home run. Jose Canseco hit career home run no. 400 on April 14 at Toronto with a blast off Kelvim Escobar. He became the 28th player to reach that plateau. Roberto Hernandez earned his 200th save on May 1 vs. Detroit- only the 23rd to reach that marker- first born outside the US.

Tribe batters went 18-for-27 over the last three innings.

Devil Rays Inaugural Game, March 31, 1998

St. Petersburg, FL—Hall of Famers Ted Williams, Stan Musial, Al Lopez and Monte Irvin threw out the ceremonial first pitches and minutes later, at 5:08 p.m. on March 31, 1998, major league baseball was born in Tampa Bay as Wilson Alvarez delivered a ball to Detroit's leadoff hitter Brian Hunter. Alvarez retired the Tigers 1-2-3 in the first inning, then 9 of the next 13 batters hit safely. The Rays fell behind 11-0 in the 5th inning before Wade Boggs hit a 2-run homer off Justin Thompson in the 6th to account for the first two runs in Devil Rays' history. Tampa Bay rallied for four runs in the 9th and left the tying run in the on-deck circle when Paul Sorrento struck out to end the game. Every starter on both sides hit safely except Rays' LF Mike Kelly. Tampa native Luis Gonzalez hit the first home run at Tropicana Field and added a single and double.

Devil Rays First Win, April 1, 1998

St. Petersburg, FL— April First, but it was no joke, the Devil Rays won their first game. In game #2 of the season opening series, the Rays rallied from a 3-0, first inning deficit and banged out 18 hits – still their high for a 9-inning game – on their way to an 11-8 victory. Rookie Rolando Arrojo earned the win in his major league debut and Fred McGriff had three run scoring hits including a 2-run single in the Rays' decisive 4-run 8th inning. The Rays batted around in the 4th and 8th innings (they batted around 4 times in the 3-game series). Two-out, RBI singles by Wade Boggs and McGriff were the big hits in the 4th inning in which the Rays entered trailing 3-2. The Rays got a hit in every inning except the 5th.

DIRT BASEPATHS

*Tropicana Field is the first major league park in more than 20 years to feature Astroturf and dirt base paths. All other eight current major league parks with artificial turf have only dirt cutouts around the bases and at the pitcher's mound. Only four other all-Astroturf stadia have ever featured dirt base paths: Astrodome (1966-71); San Francisco's Candlestick in 1971, Pittsburgh's Three Rivers Stadium in the early '70s and the most recent, St. Louis' Busch Stadium (1970-76). Chicago's Comiskey Park had dirt basepaths with an Astroturf infield and grass outfield in the early '70s

1998 Devil Rays Season Summary

- The Rays finished in the top five in the American League in fielding pct. (2nd) and ERA (4th)...Only one other expansion team has ever finished in the top five in its league in either pitching OR fielding. Arizona finished 3rd in the NL in fielding this season.
- The Rays were the first expansion team ever to go four games over .500 at any point in the season when they were 10-6 on April 19...Among the four major sports (MLB, NFL, NHL, NBA) only two expansion teams reached four games over .500 at any point in their season, both NHL teams in 1967: Philadelphia Flyers (15-9-5) and the Los Angeles Kings (10-6-3).
- The Rays spent a total of 22 days above .500. Only one expansion team had more: 1969 KC Royals with 28.
- The Rays' 12 wins in April were the most ever by a first-year expansion team.
- The Rays won nine straight games against defending AL Division Champs (5-Bal., 2-Cle. and 2-Sea.)
- The Rays became the first expansion team to own winning records in six road parks: Baltimore (5-1), Chicago White Sox (3-2), Detroit (3-2), Anaheim (4-2), Seattle (3-2) and Philadelphia (2-1).
- The Rays became the first expansion team to win season series from five opponents: Baltimore (7-5), Chicago White Sox (6-5), Detroit (6-5), Oakland (6-5) and Philadelphia (2-1).
- The Rays became the first expansion team to sweep a four-game series from a reigning league or division champion in it's own park when they swept a four-game series at Camden Yards, May 15-18.
- The Rays won six straight home games in July, one shy of the longest home win streak ever by a first-year expansion team.
- The Rays' 94 errors were 2nd fewest in the major leagues behind the Orioles who set a major league record with 81...No other expansion team has made fewer than 100 errors and, in fact, the other 13 expansion teams have averaged 162 errors in their inaugural seasons.
- The Rays allowed only 53 unearned runs, 3rd fewest in the AL and the fewest ever by an expansion team...The previous low by an expansion team was 63 by the '93 Marlins...The 13 other expansion teams allowed an average of 96 unearned runs in their first season.
- The Devil Rays recorded a major league high 47 outfield assists, most since the 1993 Indians, featuring Albert Belle, Wayne Kirby and Kenny Lofton, racked up 51... The Rays were led by Quinton McCracken who finished with 18, most ever by a player on an expansion team...The old mark was 16 by Rusty Staub of the 1969 Montreal Expos...The Rays also tied the Boston Red Sox for the fewest outfield errors (8).
- Despite having 134 games started by pitchers with less than two years of major league experience, the Devil Rays finished 4th in the AL in ERA (4.35)... The Rays became only the 2nd expansion team to finish with an ERA below the league average (4.65)...The only other team to do it was the 1962 Houston Colt .45s...No other expansion team has finished higher than 6th in the league in ERA.

FLORIDA POWER WALKWAY

Leading the way through the main parking lot on the east side of the entrance to Tropicana Field is the Florida Power Walkway, the largest ceramic tile mosaic mural in the Southeast and one of the five largest in the country. It is 900 feet long by 30 feet wide and contains 1,849,091 tiles. The mosaic is an impressionistic design of the sun and sea, for which Florida is famous. The design is complete with sand, beach towels, water, fish, sharks, turtles, and devil rays. The walkway also features a sophisticated sound system that plays thematic music and play-by-play descriptions of the game in progress. Theatrical lighting in different shapes and configurations heightens the night-time experience. The sun is artfully depicted in a dramatic, arched, 23-foot high original steel structure that forms the gateway to the stadium.

RAYSVISION

"RaysVision" is the entertainment presentation Devil Rays fans experience when they visit Tropicana Field. The RaysVision show, headed by the Event Production Department, is comprised of four distinct elements: video, matrix, audio and live entertainment.

Situated in right field at the Trop is a Mitsubishi Mark IIIHB Diamond Vision screen measuring 24' x 32'. This crisp and colorful video display showcases a multitude of in-game entertainment, flashy graphics, music videos, instant replays, interactive quizzes and games, and most importantly, live shots of the fans. Two 9 x 9 Electrosonic video walls in each food court also display the RaysVision video show as well as the game broadcast. In addition to game production, the RaysVision video crew also produces and edits all TBDR television and video projects.

Flanking the RaysVision are two Daktronics monochrome matrix displays, each measuring 16' x 30'. Beyond a simple linescore, these versatile matrix displays present a variety of statistics, updates, messages, graphics, entertaining animations, fan birthdays and special occasions. In 1999, the RaysVision matrix show captured the IDEA Golden Matrix Award for Best Overall Matrix Display, beating out the Ohio State University and Madison Square Garden for the top prize. These main matrix displays are supported by 16 out of town scoreboards, 2 lineup displays, 4 tier level auxiliary matrix screens, and a Hi-Tech color matrix display in centerfield street. New for 2000, a 3.5' x 37' Daktronics green matrix board will be installed in center field, specifically dedicated to displaying current and upcoming community relations events and information.

The Devil Rays finished the season in fourth place, 16 games back in the East Division of the Rookie Appalachian League...OF Josh Hamilton was the team's lone All-Star representative. He was selected the #1 prospect in the league by Baseball America. Before his promotion to Hudson Valley on August 17, Hamilton was seventh in the league in hitting (.347) and fourth in doubles (20), slugging percentage (.593) and extra-base hits (34). He also tallied a club-high 18 stolen bases...1B Isrrael Osorio led the Rookie Rays with 12 home runs and 50 RBI...RHP Nelson Valera (5-2, 2.91) topped the staff in wins while ranking sixth in AL in ERA...relievers Brian Stoke (33), Juan Frias (30), Greg Dittmer (28), and Dustin McKey (26) were the league's top four in appearances.

STUDENTS AND RAYS COMBINE ON MAJOR LEAGUE FIRST

On May 6, 1999, the Devil Rays and students from Lakewood High School and Countryside High School in Pinellas County made history. That day, the students handled all of the television production duties of the Rays-Royals game from Tropicana Field. That game was not televised by the Rays' regular TV network, so the students manned the cameras, produced, directed, handled the play-by-play and color commentator duties and conducted pre-game interviews. The game was shown two days later on the Pinellas County Cable station, WPDC-TV Channel 14. To our knowledge, high school students have never done anything like it before.

History of Professional Baseball in Tampa Bay

Although the 1998 Devil Rays played Florida's first regular season major league game outside of Miami, the league's roots in the Tampa Bay Area can be traced back some 87 years. In fact, more major league spring training games have been played in St. Petersburg than in any other city.

Major League Baseball's roots in Tampa Bay can be traced back to 1913 when the Chicago Cubs moved their spring training operation from New Orleans to Tampa. The following year the St. Louis Browns came to St. Petersburg for spring workouts.

Except for the years between 1942 and 1945 when wartime restrictions limited travel for spring training, major league baseball has had a presence in Tampa Bay ever since.

Even during the war years, the area found a way to keep the National Pastime alive. To fill the wartime void, Tampa fashioned the Inter-Social League in 1943. Crowds averaged several thousand in West Tampa and Ybor City to see players that included the fathers of future major leaguers Lou Piniella and Dave Magadan.

Nine teams have trained in St. Petersburg: the Boston Braves (1922-37), St. Louis Cardinals (1938-42; 1946-97), New York Yankees (1925-42; 1946-50; 1952-61), New York Giants (1951), New York Mets (1962-87), Baltimore Orioles (1993-95); St. Louis Browns (1914), Philadelphia Phillies (1915-18) and the Devil Rays.

Tampa has been the spring home of six major league clubs: Chicago Cubs (1913-16), Cincinnati Reds (1931-42; 1946-87), Boston Red Sox (1919), Detroit Tigers (1930), Washington Senators (1920-29), Chicago White Sox (1954-59) and the New York Yankees (1996-).

St. Petersburg has hosted at least one team for spring training in 80 of the past 86 years and had two teams train there for 63 years. The city has been home to minor league baseball for 62 of the past 80 years beginning with the St. Petersburg Saints in the Florida State League in 1920. Tampa has been a major league spring training site for 74 of the past 87 years and has had minor league baseball for 57 of the past 81 years.

Sixty-five Hall of Famers have trained in Tampa or St. Petersburg alone, not counting dozens of others who spent springs in Sarasota, Clearwater, Bradenton, and Lakeland.

Plant City, Dunedin, and Tarpon Springs have also been spring training hosts bringing the total number of major league teams who trained in Greater Tampa Bay to 19. All told, those clubs have held a combined total of 517 spring training camps in the area.

In 1910, a former Pittsburgh laundry owner named Al Lang moved to St. Petersburg for his health. He soon became the business manager of a ballpark in St. Pete and focused on two goals: to make better use of the facility and help the sagging tourism industry. The answer was to attract a major league baseball team to St. Petersburg for spring training. So successful was he, that in 1916 and again in 1918, he was elected the mayor of St. Petersburg.

At first, he was rebuffed by the Pittsburgh Pirates whose owner Barney Dreyfuss told him: "Al Lang, you must think I am a damn fool, suggesting I train in a little one-tank town that's not even a dot on the map." Lang did convince the Chicago Cubs to leave New Orleans as their spring training home, but they chose Tampa instead in 1913. A year later he lured the St. Louis Browns, under manager Branch Rickey, to move to St. Petersburg. A baseball committee, formed to attract a major league team to the city, raised $20,000 to buy a large tract of land for a ballpark. The site chosen for the field was Coffee Pot Bayou in St. Petersburg, where a 2,000 seat grandstand was built. Although, the location offered easy access to fishing, swimming and boating, the players did not like the fact that the movie houses in St. Petersburg closed at 9:30 p.m. and the city had only one dance a week. Most distressing was the fact that the city was "dry." Only the Elks club served liquor.

The first game between two major league teams in the area took place in 1914, as the Grapefruit League was established, in which teams played a five-week schedule of exhibition games. On March 26 of that year, at Plant Field on the campus of the University of Tampa, the host Chicago Cubs edged the Browns, 3-2, despite making six errors. The Cubs were fueled early by a first-inning, two-run home run by C. Williams, a blow described as "lucky" the next day by the St. Petersburg Times... Elmer Koestner and Zip Zabel shut out the Browns through eight innings.

The next day, the two teams met at Coffee Pot Bayou in St. Petersburg and the result was the same, a 3-2 Cubs win. James Leslie (Hippo) Vaughn was the winning pitcher for the Cubs as an estimated 4,000 looked on including many sitting in their automobiles, parked beyond right field. Schools and most offices shut down at mid-day. It later became custom for merchants to close their doors on Monday and Wednesday afternoons to allow employees and customers to attend games.

The Browns vacated St. Petersburg after one year following a dispute over who would pay for the team's expenses. The Philadelphia Phillies replaced them in 1915. After the Phillies moved on three years later, Lang convinced 20 local residents to each contribute $1,000 to build a new ballpark, Waterfront Park, a little north of today's Al Lang Field, built in 1947 in honor of the great baseball promoter.

After a three-year absence, baseball returned in 1922 in the form of the Boston Braves. The Yankees followed in 1925. It probably was not a coincidence that Yankees Manager Miller Huggins had recently purchased a home in St. Petersburg.

It is said that the fact that the Yankees stayed at the Don CeSar Hotel on St. Petersburg Beach in the early 1930s saved the hotel from financial ruin. With players, club officials and media, the Yankees occupied some 125 rooms and filled the hotel restaurant where the players enjoyed steak and unlimited amounts of milk.

With the Yankees came Babe Ruth and his flamboyant lifestyle. On the train ride home from their first spring training in St. Petersburg, Ruth collapsed reportedly from overindulging his large appetite for food and drink. The "stomachache heard around the world" caused him to miss the first month of the regular season. He was subsequently suspended in August of that season for poor performance.

On April 4, 1919 while Ruth was in Tampa for spring training with the Boston Red Sox, he hit what many consider his longest home run, a 587-foot blast against the New York Giants at Plant Field. The feat is commemorated on a plaque at the field.

In 1928, the spring after Ruth's record setting season, 270,000 fans saw Yankees' spring games in St. Petersburg. As a result, Yankee owner Jacob Ruppert cleared a $60,000 profit before heading north.

While with the Yankees on the first day of spring training in 1925 at the team's headquarters at Crescent Lake Field, Ruth gave up shagging balls in rightfield because several alligators had emerged from the lake which bordered the outfield. The park is today known as Huggins-Stengel Field, in honor of former Yankee managers Miller Huggins and Casey Stengel. That field was the first ever used by the expansion New York Mets, who took the field there for the first time in 1962, replacing the Yankees, who ended a 35-year relationship with the St. Petersburg the year before. The Devil Rays held their first minor league spring training camp at the same field.

When the Boston Braves left for Bradenton in 1937, the St. Louis Cardinals came to St. Petersburg the following year and would stay 57 of the next 60, missing only the war years. Only the Detroit Tigers, who have trained in Lakeland for 63 years, have ever had a longer association with a spring training home. The Cardinals left St. Petersburg in 1997 for a new home in Jupiter, Florida, a facility they share with the Montreal Expos. Upon the Cardinals' exit, the Devil Rays pledged they would carry the torch in St. Petersburg thus becoming the first modern day team to conduct spring training in its home city.

Three minor leagues have had affiliates in the Tampa Bay Area: the Florida State League (1919-), the Florida International League (1946-54) and the Southeastern League (1928-30). The area is also home to the Gulf Coast Rookie League.

Minor league baseball began in Tampa Bay in 1919, when Tampa became a charter member of the Class D Florida State League. After finishing dead last the first year, Tampa went 89-28 in 1920, a .745 winning percentage, still the best in FSL history. It was that year that the St. Petersburg Saints entered the FSL. By 1922, the Saints had won a FSL crown of their own, the first of eight they would win, most in league history. Included in that impressive list is the championship won in 1958 when St. Petersburg became the only FSL ever to win 100 games. St. Pete set a FSL attendance record in 1989 when they drew 202,383 as a St. Louis Cardinals' affiliate. Among Tampa's six first place FSL finishes, was the title earned by the 1961 team led by Reds farmhand Pete Rose who set a still existing FSL mark with 30 triples that year.

The teams from St. Petersburg and Tampa alone have played more than 13,000 minor league games. Add Dunedin, Clearwater and Lakeland and the number soars to 21,000.

Another professional league had a presence in Tampa Bay albeit briefly. The Senior Professional Baseball Association, a league of former major leaguers who were at least 35 years of age or older, sprang up for one season, 1989-90. The St. Pete Pelicans were the first and only league champions.

The prolonged absence of a permanent major league team in this area was not for a lack of effort. Tampa Bay actively pursued major league baseball through expansion and made numerous attempts to lure an existing franchise.

That dogged pursuit lasted some 19 years. Along the way, it appeared a number of teams were headed for Tampa Bay: the Minnesota Twins (1983), Oakland A's (1985), Chicago White Sox (1988), Texas Rangers (1988), Seattle Mariners (1991) and San Francisco Giants (1992) all seemed destined to move to the area. None did. In 1988, local lawmakers approved the use of public funds for a 43,000 seat stadium with the intent of attracting a baseball team. In 1990, the Florida Suncoast Dome was completed and some 20,000 fans pledged $50 for season tickets. The next year, however, Major League Baseball instead expanded to Miami and Denver.

Still not defeated, Tampa Bay officials kept the area in the forefront and on March 9, 1995 the dream became reality. On that date, Vincent J. Naimoli, President and Chief Executive Officer of Anchor Industries International, headquartered in Tampa, and his entirely local ownership group were awarded an expansion franchise for Tampa Bay. The announcement came at the owner's meetings in West Palm Beach Florida. The vote among league owners was 28-0 to admit the Devil Rays and the Arizona Diamondbacks as the 13th and 14th expansion teams in major league history. The reaction in the Tampa Bay area was one of pure ecstasy as the emotions of nearly two decades of disappointment were swept away.

The Tampa Bay area has produced a multitude of major leaguers including Al Lopez, the only Tampa Bay native in the National baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, Wade Boggs, Lou Piniella, Tony LaRussa, Dwight Gooden, Gary Sheffield, Fred McGriff, Tino Martinez, Howard Johnson, Dave Magadan, Luis Gonzalez and Brad Radke.

DEVIL RAYS FIRST TO TRAIN AT HOME IN MODERN ERA

The Devil Rays' major league spring training home is Florida Power Park, Home of Al Lang Field, in St. Petersburg, making the Tampa Bay franchise the first major league team to train in its home city since 1919 when the St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Athletics both trained at home. Between 1943-45, the "War Years," travel restrictions forced teams to alter their routine of heading to warmer weather and some teams trained close to home. Six teams stayed within 100 miles of their home city: Boston Red Sox trained in nearby Medford, 1943-45; Washington Senators trained in a Washington suburb, College Park, MD, 1943-45; Philadelphia Phillies (1944-45) and Athletics (1943) each trained in Wilmington, DE, just 30 miles away; New York Yankees spent 1943 training at the home of Bruce Springsteen, Asbury Park, NJ, some 70 miles from the Big Apple; New York Giants were in Lakewood, NJ, 90 miles away, 1943-45; and the Phillies trained in Hershey, PA in 1943, approximately 100 miles from home.

Tropicana Field: The Ballpark Of The 21st Century

Tropicana Field, home of the Tampa Bay Devil Rays, closed its doors in October 1996 for a 17-month, $85 million facelift that transformed the facility from functional to intriguingly innovative, incorporating baseball traditions throughout the dining, shopping and entertainment complex while adding 319,000 square feet of space.

Originally named the Florida Suncoast Dome and then the ThunderDome, Tropicana Field's 1.1 million square feet include unique design features and fan amenities found nowhere else in the major leagues.

• Tropicana Field is the first major league park in more than 20 years to feature Astroturf and all-dirt base paths. All of the other six major league parks that currently feature artificial turf have only dirt cutouts around the bases and at the pitcher's mound. Only four other Astroturf ballparks have ever featured all-dirt base paths: Houston's Astrodome (1966–1971); San Francisco's Candlestick Park in 1971; Pittsburgh's Three Rivers Stadium in the early '70s; and, most recently, St. Louis' Busch Stadium (1970–1976). Chicago's Comiskey Park had all-dirt base paths with an Astroturf infield and grass outfield in the early '70s.

• In keeping with baseball's traditions, the bullpens were relocated after the 1998 season to the field, giving fans a clear view of activity before and during games. The Devil Rays bullpen is located along the right field line, while the visitors bullpen is located along the left field line.

• Seats behind the backstop are the closest in the major leagues—a mere 50 feet from home plate. (St. Louis' Busch Stadium is thought to be the same distance.) These seats are complete with the latest in stadium technology, the ChoiceSeat touch screen venue display unit. Fans can touch video screens, attached to the arm of their seat, to call up one of eight different camera angles, the home team broadcast or the DiamondVision. There is also a replay button, a statistics button, access to the team's web site (www.devilray.com) and a number of other options.

• Of the 319,000 square feet that was added to the facility—including new and wider concourses—it is the area known as Center Field Street that commands the most attention. This bustling area, open year round, features the Cuesta-Rey Cigar Bar, baseball's first in-stadium cigar bar, as well as the Batter's Eye Restaurant, located, appropriately, in the "batter's eye" in center field. The specially tinted windows of the restaurant make up a 130-foot-wide hitting background, yet still allow patrons of the restaurant to watch the game. Also found on Center Field Street are the Cyber Café, the Budweiser Brew House with its adjoining family entertainment center, merchandise outlets, telecommunications centers, a bank, a travel agency, a climbing wall, a kid-sized concession stand with kid-sized prices, and a food court known as the Taste of Tampa Bay, which features cuisine from some of the area's most popular restaurants.

• New on Center Field Street in 2000 is the 2001 Technologies Cyber Café. The Café will offer food, drink and 12 high-quality computer stations for business, personal communications, web-surfing and baseball watching.

• On the expanded concourses are nearly 290 points of sale, believed to be among the most in Major League Baseball. Eight escalators and seven elevators provide fans with easy access between levels.

• Ebbets Field was an influence for Tropicana Field in two ways—one by coincidence, the other by design. Tropicana Field's asymmetrical outfield dimensions closely follow those of the Brooklyn Dodgers' old home, a fact that became evident only after those measurements had been determined. Conversely, Tropicana Field's grand, eight-story-high rotunda entrance is designed from the very blueprints used for the rotunda at Ebbets Field, built in 1913.

• Fans can enter the rotunda by following a 900-foot, tropical-theme, ceramic mosaic walkway. Called SunSations, The Florida Power Walkway is the largest outdoor ceramic mural in Florida and one of the five largest in the United States. made with 1,849,091 brightly colored 1x1-inch tiles, it depicts the sun, sea and beach. A sound system delivers replays of great moments in baseball, play-by-play of Devil Ray games, and music accompanied by synchronized theatrical lighting that casts different shapes and configurations along the way.

• The roof of the dome is lit orange after the Devil Rays win at home, symbolic of the ballpark's title sponsor, Tropicana Dole Beverages.

• Astroturf 12, the grade of the playing-surface turf, is so new that it wasn't even made when the club originally placed its order for the turf. The densest artificial turf available (1 1/4 -inch thick including padding), it feels like a soft-cushioned carpet, is less abrasive to the players and gives a truer bounce.

• The outfield warning track, unlike standard rubberized material used in other major league ballparks, features a special Astroturf surface called Astroturf Loop Pile, currently being used in only three other ballparks (in Hawaii, Japan and Puerto Rico). Made from the same nylon fiber as Astroturf 12, its loop-pile fabric construction provides a different feel from outfield turf for players approaching the fence. Plus, since it's denser than typical warning track material, it helps "deaden" the ball's bounce. In addition, Tropicana Field features a 20-foot-wide outfield warning track, instead of the 15 feet used in many ballparks. Together, the special warning track and its extra width are expected to cut down on ground rule doubles.

• Tropicana Field features the world's second-largest cable-supported domed roof (Georgia Dome is the largest). It's made of six acres of translucent, Teflon-coated fiberglass and it virtually supports itself with 180 miles of cables connected by struts. Opposing forces of tension and compression keep the roof in an arc. Tropicana Field's roof is slanted at a 6.5 degree angle, dropping from 225 feet above second base to 85 feet at the center field wall. The slanted roof reduced the overall construction costs and decreased the volume of air under the dome by 16.8 million cubic feet. Accordingly, that reduced the amount of air that requires climate control treatment. It is built to withstand wind of up to 115 miles per hour.

Tropicana Field History

The original Florida Suncoast Dome was opened to the public on March 3, 1990, at a cost of $138 million. It became the ThunderDome in 1993 with the arrival of the area's National Hockey League expansion franchise, the Tampa Bay Lightning. It was renamed Tropicana Field on Oct. 4, 1996, in accordance with a naming rights agreement between the Devil Rays and Tropicana Dole Beverages North America, located in Bradenton.

Though originally built for baseball, there have been 16 other sports and competitions presented in the facility. These include hockey, basketball, football, sprint car racing, gymnastics, soccer, tennis, weightlifting, ping pong, karate, motorcycle racing, equestrian events, track and figure skating.

The facility has set attendance records in a number of sports. During their three seasons playing in the building, the Lightning established the top 20 attendance marks in NHL history. On April 23, 1996, a crowd of 28,183 attended Game Four of the Eastern Conference Quarterfinals between the Lightning and the Philadelphia Flyers—the largest single-game attendance figure in NHL history.

The Arena Football League's Tampa Bay Storm set all its records while playing in the facility, including the largest single-game record of 28,746. In 1990, Davis Cup tennis was played at the dome, with a record crowd of 53,150 attending the three-day event. Also in 1990, 25,710 NBA fans saw the Chicago Bulls play an exhibition game against the Seattle Supersonics in what was then the largest crowd ever to attend a basketball game in the state of Florida. That figure was surpassed first by the 26,102 who attended the 1994 first-round NCAA Regionals, then again on March 20 and 22, 1998, when sellout crowds of 40,589—a record for a non-Final Four game—watched the NCAA Regional and semifinal games featuring Syracuse, UCLA, Duke and Kentucky. The 1999 Final Four, featuring Duke, Ohio State, Michigan State and eventual-champion Connecticut, drew capacity crowds of 40,632 and 39,113 on March 27 and 29. The largest crowd to date—47,150—appeared at the Aug. 11, 1990, concert featuring The New Kids on the Block.

Playing Surface:
Astroturf 12 is the densest artificial turf made (1 1/4 inches thick including padding), with each "stem" in the turf containing 12 bristles rather than the usual eight. It took 500 tons of clay shipped in from Tennessee to build the base paths. Called "Mar Mix," the infield dirt is a carefully blended mixture of 54 percent sand, 32 percent clay and 14 percent silt. Another type of clay, Blue Gumbo, is used for the pitcher's mound and batter's box.
